Moyamoya Foundation Hosts Fundraising Gala

Fundraising gala to support Moyamoya research

New York, NY (December 16, 2022) – The Moyamoya Foundation will host a fundraising gala to support Moyamoya disease research. This event will take place on January 14th, 2023 at the Marriot Marquis, NYC 1535 Broadway, New York, NY 10036 from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m.

The event will feature a catered 4-course meal, a silent auction, live music, and dancing. The event will also feature speakers and leaders in Moyamoya research, Dr. Gary K. Steinburg, of Stanford Medicine, at Stanford University, and Dr. Edward Smith, of Boston Children’s Hospital, who will discuss new and advancing research about the disease. Special guest speakers Will Yun Lee, star of The Good Doctor, whose son was diagnosed with Moyamoya Disease, and Greatest Showman’ Star Keala Settle, who was recently diagnosed with the disease will also be in attendance.

The Moyamoya Foundation continues its mission to promote awareness of Moyamoya disease by working with healthcare professionals and patient advocates. To support and encourage research of Moyamoya disease and to provide assistance to families/patients undergoing Moyamoya treatment for expenses not covered by insurance.

According to foundation president, Dean Houle, “The Moyamoya Foundation looks forward to spreading awareness about Moyamoya Disease while having a great and entertaining evening out. The need for increased awareness of Moyamoya disease is ever increasing as the number of patients diagnosed begins to rise, this event is going to help move our goals of awareness forward and help to decrease the number of misdiagnosed cases.”

Moyamoya disease is a rare disease that affects the arteries in the brain and causes a variety of different symptoms including but not limited to stroke, seizures, numbness and weakness on one side of the body, and headaches. The foundation is hoping to meet and surpass its goal of raising $150,000 during the event.
